"A Perfect Woman Nobly Planned To Warn, to Comfort and Command"

Nature never intended woman to be delicate, ailing, or a sufferer from "nerves." Women in middle age complain of "hot flashes." Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood, and from motherhood to middle life, with backache, or headache, dizziness, faintness, or bearing-down sensations. For a permanent relief from these distressing symptoms nothing is so good as

as a soothing and strengthening nervine—alleviates nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, and other distressing symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere and for over 40 years as the standard remedy for the diseases of women. Young women may send 25 cents for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets. Address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

to keep—but scatter them broadcast, share them with others. If we have blooming roses, share them; if we have fine grapes on our vines, share them; if we have beautiful pictures, invite people in to see them; if we have helpful thoughts, give them away. This generous method of living will bear a rich harvest, not perhaps in a like return but in placing the donor on a higher plane of thought and giving him a broader view of life and its obligations.

An author is known by his writings—a mother by her daughter, a fool by his words, all men by their companions.

Ollie Howard, of Elliott county, who was arrested some days ago in a local hotel with a woman not his wife, is in a serious condition at the city prison, where he has been confined since his arrest, suffering from attacks of lockjaw. Howard suffered over thirty of the spasms last night and one this morning.—Independent.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.*COLUMN DEDICATED TO THRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

The touch of some people is moral; to know others is inspiration and life. Pain and suffering are inseparably connected with hate. Cultivate gardens of flowers and not weeds in your heart.

To be beautiful we should be good. As you open the window of your house to admit sunshine and fresh air, to drive out malaria, so also should you open the windows of your soul, drive out the gloom and despair and let in the blessed sunshine of God's love and joy.

A beautiful writer has said: "If there be a pleasure on earth which angels cannot enjoy and which they might almost envy man the possession of, it is the power of relieving distress. Every kind act we do but inclines us more and more toward such deeds, and we become readier to do the same again and with more enjoyment. Every kindness done others in our daily walks advances us nearer those great souls which make the age they live in memorable."

Happiness is the inalienable right of childhood. Give a child half a chance and it will make a joy of life. God made it carefree. The sorrows of life and death are like a dream to it. "Heaven lies about it" and it sees visions beautiful. Its father is the noblest and wisest of men, its mother the dearest and tenderest and best in the world. Every pleasant man and woman is its friend, and the world is a fine and wonderful place that it hopes later to explore. It lives the life of the heart and of the imagination and has no trouble except when the tyrannical hand of some adulterous deprives it of legitimate joy.

All possible charities of life ought to be cultivated, and when we can neither be brethren or friend, let us be kind neighbors and pleasant acquaintances. Our life is what we make it. Most people will find difficulties and hardships enough without seeking them. Let them not repine but take their troubles as a part of the educational discipline necessary to fit the mind to arrive at the highest good.

Some of us, as we grow old, become so oppressed by the cares and sorrows of mature life that we quite forget the days of our youth. The pains and pleasures of childhood seem so trivial that we fail to realize that a child's sorrows are keener and probably keener, than anything we know in adult life. We forget the exquisite joy that a new toy gave us, and the palpitating pleasures of a visit to town, the ecstatic delight of a day in the woods. And we forget, too, the depth of anguish that came with each disappointment.

We have heard a great deal about love in a cottage. It is a pretty sentiment, very poetical and captivating to those who have been used to luxury and refinement, but can you pay for your cottage? The house first and the bride after; the means first and the wife to follow. This is the plainest common sense. Great expectations are often great disappointments. Measure the stature of a man, his power to swim in the rough tides, his mastery over himself, his energy, self respect, self reliance and self control. Gifted with these, if he has but enough to find you the humblest hut, he will lead you skyward, sunward and never downward.

Let all our little kindnesses be from a loving heart, and not formal acts for the world to see. Let us not wear two faces—the one in company, the other behind the scenes. But let us be kind, loving and true at home, when the world is not looking on. The home in which love reigns supreme is a heaven on earth. "The bosom which does not feel love is cold; the mind which does not conceive it is dull; the philosophy which does not accept it is false." And the only true religion has pure and reciprocal love for its basis. Be kind and affectionate to mother. Let it be the greatest pleasure to perform the little loving kindnesses that add so much to the brightness of a home. Meet father with a kiss of love. Be a ray of sunshine in your own home.

Happiness ought to be contagious and to make it so the good things of life must be shared. Not merely with our family but with our neighbors and acquaintances, our townsmen, and "the strangers within our gates." We should use our blessings, not put them up in lavender leaves or camphor balls

Ber Wolf has organized the Oil Springs Oil & Gas Co., with local people as stockholders, and the company is putting down a well at Oil Springs. It is expected that this well will be completed this week. The well is being drilled on a direct line with the oil belt and the promoters have hopes of finding a paying well. This company has 240 acres in this territory and if this well is any good a large number of wells will be drilled at once.

Lightning is no respecter of person or property, apparently, nor does it distinguish between good and evil, for Saturday it struck and burned the Exel meeting house, one of the finest church properties in this section.—Hazel Green Herald.

General Deputy Collector George W. Castle, of Grayson; Marshal Thos. Hatfield, Hindman, and Deputy Collector Samuel Collins, of Whitesburg, with possemen, returned from a three days' moonshine raid through Beaver Creek, Carr's Fork and the Troublesome section of Knott and Floyd counties, and were successful in destroying twelve large alleged moonshine outfits. Two alleged moonshiners, Alex Francis and Joe Nohle, were arrested, the latter being but 16.

"Aunt" Mary Evans, colored, reputed to be 115 years old, died at her home in Winchester last week. She had been sick only a few days and until the time of her illness had shown remarkable activity.

Out of 27 prisoners paroled at Eddyville Friday, only five were white.

Whitesburg, Aug. 1.—The Regular Baptist Advocate, of which Elder R. H. Field, of the Big Cowan Creek Baptist church, is editor, has made its appearance here. It is a monthly publication and deals with the old regular Baptist doctrine. The paper is issued from the office of the Eastern Kentucky News.

Lydia Bailey, the six year old daughter of Harrison Bailey, of Norton Branch, 15 miles from Ashland, on the A. C. & L. railway, was shot and instantly killed last Thursday evening by Sarah Kelly, aged 13, daughter of Jas. Kelly, a neighbor. The Kelly girl claims that the shooting was an accident, but there are circumstances connected with the killing which are being investigated by the authorities of Carter county. The children were alone in a room of the Bailey home when the tragedy occurred.

The well on the Sturdilvent farm in the lower end of town was drilled into the oil producing sand last Saturday and a fine flow of gas was the result. There had been some showing of oil and the operator, R. N. Phipps, intends to drill through the sand in the hope of getting oil. It is thought this well will be about equal in volume and pressure to the Morgan County Meat, Fuel and Light Company's well on Elk Fork. Other wells will be drilled in the neighborhood of the Sturdilvent well in order to give the territory a thorough test.—Licking Valley Courier.

Mrs. Harrop, wife of the Rev. F. W. Harrop, died at her home in Covington, aged about 45 years. She had been an invalid for many years.

Louis Baldwin, of Ashland, was struck by an automobile driven by J. M. Maggard last Friday, and so badly injured that he died.

Whitesburg, Aug. 4.—There is little doubt that Anna Christie Stallard, living near Hilliard, seven miles from here, on the head of Colly creek, is the oldest and most remarkable woman in Kentucky today. Anna Christie lately rounded out her actual 104th milestone and is still almost an active and alert as most women of half her age, doing a considerable amount of labor about her home. She lives alone, doing her household work and all the work on the outside. Anna Christie's mental qualities are as good as they ever were.

Ollie Howard, of Elliott county, who was arrested some days ago in a local hotel with a woman not his wife, is in a serious condition at the city prison, where he has been confined since his arrest, suffering from attacks of lockjaw. Howard suffered over thirty of the spasms last night and one this morning.—Independent.

Morehead.—Thursday was Good Roads day at the Rowan County Teachers' Institute. Mrs. Cora Wilson Stuart declared it was the most important session ever held in Rowan county. D. W. King spoke for two hours, and followed his address with a practical demonstration. A great many persons, who for several days have been expressing their doubts, were converted. Forty persons gave their names and promised to make split-dragos. The teachers propose to drag the road at every schoolhouse in the county.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Anna Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and women's troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardia, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good.

I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardia is the best medicine in the world. My weight increased, and I look the picture of health.

AN EDUCATIONAL CREED.

The State that has the men has the present, and the State that has the schools has the future. A great Commonwealth's idealization of education is the result of the law of self-preservation.

It recognizes its own being as an organism composed of spiritual atoms that are capable of growth or degeneration. Intelligent patriotism or anarchism is natural for our government to idealize an intelligent, active, rational, aggressive citizen. It takes a full-grown mind to reach and a full-grown heart to feel a full-grown democracy. It will take full-grown citizens to make a full-grown Kentucky, and a full-grown school system exploited to the highest degree of social and industrial efficiency to make full-grown citizens.

Our noble boys and girls stand by our side armed with ability and nerve ready to accomplish the larger Kentucky, if we will only give them an opportunity. We greet childhood today and recognize a patriotic call for education and more abundant education, ideas, and more noble ideas, more government by the teacher and less government by the policeman, more government by the school house and less government by the military camp, more and better schools and fewer jails and penitentiaries, more scholars and fewer criminals, more freemen and fewer slaves, more life and still more life. We need more life, and every patriot will join in the great work of putting at the door of every child in the land a modern school house with equipment and sanitation, a democratized course of study, and a teacher of scholarship, character and personality. We believe in a public policy and efficiency that will ring the moral, intellectual and industrial "rising bell" in the life of every child in our land.

SOME ROAD FIGURES.

State Aid Argument Based on What Has Been Done.

As Uncle Bill came out of the postoffice with a letter in his hand, the discussion of the tariff lulled, and one of the men yelled, "Uncle Bill!"

The old man's face wrinkled into a smile as he held up his hand and said, "Hold on, hold on. I know what you want to ask. You see this letter, it's got just the answers you want, I'll bet a hat."

He pulled the letter from its envelope, adjusted his silver-rimmed spectacles and continued, "You recollect that about a week or ten days ago all of us here at the store was talking about State Aid for road building. Some of you fellows asked a whole lot of questions. One of 'em was, what some of the roads in this state cost the government."

"Have you got the figures?"

"Yep. I just went home and wrote up to Frankfort and got 'em straight. Say, there're more of 'em and they're bigger than I thought they was. I'm going to read 'em out, if you want 'em."

"Sure we do"—and the group drew closer about Uncle Bill as he seated himself cautiously on a nail keg.

"Well, I find that way back in 1821 Kentucky gave $1,000 to improve the grade over Muldrow's Hill. That was part of the Lexington to Nashville road. But later when the people began to build sure enough good macadam roads, the ate put the money up in big chunks. When they built the road from Lexington to Frankfort, she gave $75,000. That was 27 miles of road. Then here are the other roads:

Frankfort to Louisville, 52 mi., $65,000.

Covington to Lexington, 85 mi., $20,000.

Louisville, Frankfort to Crab Orchard, 123 mi., $260,000.

"How much was that all together, Uncle Bill?"

"Wait, I just got this letter and I'll have to do some figuring," and he got a sink of a lead pencil from his vest pocket. After quite a time he announced with pride and satisfaction, "If you add in the $213,200 for the Mayfield road, that makes $1,758,322 that was given in State Aid way back yonder before land was worth much and before there was any factories or big business to tax."

"Why do you reckon they done it, Uncle Bill?"

"Because they had more every day common sense than we got, I reckon. They was sharp enough to see that it wasn't any tax; but an investment to boost the price of their land."

"I reckon that's so, Uncle Bill."

"Sure, it's so. The poorer your land the more you need a road to make it sell. If it's first class land and off the road, you can sell it; but if it's poor and off the road, you're up against it. Most of our land — well, it's poor enough to need a road to make it sell for a good stiff price."

"Of course, everybody knows that good roads are needed and needed bad."

"Well, then, if all of us know we ought to have good roads, and we know they'd improve the price of land, all we got to do is to find out the cheapest way, ain't it?"

"Yep."

"Well, then, if anybody's got a better and an easier way than State Aid, just trot it out and I'll let it all right."

FARM POULTRY

START IN POULTRY BUSINESS

Initial Step Should Be to Determine on Breed of Fowls Adapted to One's Locality.

The first thing to do in taking up poultry as a business is to find some breed adapted to the locality, then stock up with that breed and study it, says the Poultry Journal. Personality enters into the success of the poultry industry to a large extent. A man must be good-natured, for one thing, and willing to give his time and patience to detail work. For these reasons a man who takes up this business for pleasure often succeeds much better than the man who goes into it for purely the money it brings him. Success in this business comes slowly. It must be built up. It requires patience, but when success does come everything after that is easy and the profits are good.

Excellent Specimen.

To the man who wishes to enter the poultry business at a small expense, I would advise stocking with a dozen hens of some good breed. It is not well to try to do too much until the beginner has learned how to make a small flock pay. I have had very good success in getting eggs from my hens all the year round. I hatch the chicks as early as possible in the spring.

The best time to market chicks is when they weigh about two pounds and fowls just before molting. I find it profitable to market eggs where they must be guaranteed fresh, working up a good trade for the produce at a fair price.

CAUSES OF MANY FAILURES

Endeavor to Save in Expenses by Cheaperening Cost of Houses and Space is Enumerated.

The Illinois station gives among the causes of failure in the poultry business the following:

Endeavoring to keep too many fowls where room for one only can be obtained, that is saving in expenses by cheapening cost of houses and space.

Buying fowls from other farms and thus bringing disease and lice into the flock.

Overfeeding, the fowls being supplied with greater abundance under the supposition, the more feed the more eggs.

Cold draughts over the fowls at night, with a view to supplying fresh air, when the temperature is low.

Wasting time with sick fowls instead of destroying all birds that can not be cured quickly.

POOR ROADS ARE EXPENSIVE

Inefficiency Costs Southern States $300,000,000 a Year to Cart Cotton to Railroads.

The cost of bad roads is strikingly set forth by Wm. C. Redfield, secretary of commerce in President Wilson's cabinet, in this manner:

The inefficiency arising from bad roads makes it cost something like $300,000,000 a year to cart our cotton crop from the fields to the railway station. I think few people realize the immense tax put on us all by bad roads and inefficient handling.

I have said that if our farmers once realized the awful tax that bad roads impose upon them public opinion would sternly demand the making and maintaining of good roads everywhere. It now costs the farmer twelve, yes, twenty or more, times as much per ton mile to move his goods to the railway station as it does to move them on the railway after they leave the station. The farmer, indeed, in bad cases and at certain seasons may have to pay as much as $1 a ton mile, while the railroad carries the freight, when it once gets it, at an average of three-quarters of a cent per ton mile.

Among the factors which bring up the cost of living there are few which stand ahead of the useless cost of transportation, due to poor and often impassable roads. Poor roads not only make the consumer pay more for produce, but they rob the producer of that which should be added to the price paid him for his produce. There are few subjects on which the public is so unanimous as this one of the cost of poor roads, and yet at the same time few subjects on which it is harder to make people agree as to the remedy and where the initiative should be taken.

For hatching purposes take the eggs from the hens that lay best. Build up, never let the standard down.

A shelf a couple of feet below the roosts is handy to catch the droppings and handy to clean. And don't forget to clean it.

Breeding stock should be carefully selected by the poultryman and then given the best care, plenty of fresh air, sunshine and exercise.

A few nails thrown into the drinking pan will give poultry all the iron they need, but they should not be allowed to remain there. Clean the vessels every day.

SENATORS FAVOR GOOD ROADS

Growing Belief That Government Should Concern Itself With Construction of Highways.

National roads come in for repeated reference in the senate debate relating to the post office appropriation bill. It is evident that there is a constantly growing belief that the federal government before long should concern itself with the construction of trunk line roads, thus encouraging and making more convenient the great flood of interstate travel.

During the debate in the senate Senator Swanson of Virginia made this comment: "We are now confronted with the proposition whether the federal government shall or shall not extend aid for the

METHODS FOR ERADICATING INJURIOUS BITING INSECTS

Constant and Concerted Warfare Must be Made Against Little Pests—Arsenate of Lead May be Purchased Ready Prepared and Is Quite Convenient to Use—Other Recipes.

By GLENN W. HERRICK, Mississippi.
There are many kinds of insects that pester the farmer and fruit grower, and all of them, taken together, may be divided into two great groups dependent upon the kind of mouth parts they have and the manner in which they attack plants. The insects of one group have jaws and bite off bits of plants and swallow them. They are known as the biting insects. The members of the second group have a bill or sucking tube which they insert into the tissues of plants and suck out the juices. These are the sucking insects.

The grasshopper is a familiar example of the first class of insects, for it has biting mouth parts, composed of two pairs of jaws, one of which is hard and black and easily seen with the eye. With these jaws the grasshopper bites off pieces of leaves, stems, etc., and swallows them much as a cow or horse would do. Very many insect pests have biting mouth parts like the grasshopper and eat parts of plants. For example, the caterpillars, or "worms," on cotton, tomatoes, cabbage, etc. June bugs, fig-eaters, potato bugs, etc. All such insects are known as the biting insects.

It is plain that an insect that bites off pieces of leaves and swallows them stands a relatively high chance of being killed by putting some poisonous substance upon the leaves before they are eaten. It is absolutely necessary to know what kind of an insect is causing the injury—whether it is a biting or sucking insect. This is the first point to determine.

Probably Paris green is one of the best known poisons for biting insects. It is rather expensive, difficult to buy unadulterated and is quite liable to burn the foliage of plants if applied too strong.

It can be applied dry as follows:

1 pound of Paris green,

25 pounds of slaked lime or flour.

The two should be thoroughly mixed and may be sifted on the plants from a thin muslin sack, preferably in the morning while the dew is yet on.

Paris green may also be applied in water, which we believe is a better method than the dry one for most plants. Quick lime is added to prevent burning of the foliage and the poison is used in the following proportions:

1 pound of Paris green,

200 to 300 gallons of water,

3 pounds quick lime.

Slake this lime in a little water and add the Paris green. Stir thoroughly dilute with 200 gallons of water for spraying.

Arsenate of lime may also be prepared by boiling two pounds of white arsenic and eight pounds of sal soda in two gallons of water for 15 or 20 minutes, or until the arsenic and soda are dissolved. This constitutes a stock solution which may be kept in a sealed jug for a long time. When ready to spray, shake two pounds of quick lime, take one pint of the stock solution and mix them both with 40 gallons of water.

SEASON WOOD BY ELECTRICITY

Method as Purposed in France Described in British Technical Paper—Does Work Well.

The following item from a British technical paper concerns a new process of seasoning wood by electricity in France:

A large tank is filled with a solution containing 10 per cent. of borax and 5 per cent. of resin, with just a trace of carbonate of soda. In the bottom of the tank is a lead plate which is electrically connected to the positive pole of the dynamo. The timber to be treated is stacked on this plate, and when the tank has been filled another plate is superimposed and connected to the negative pole of the dynamo. When the current is switched on it passes through the stack of wood between the two plates, and in its passage it is said to deposit borax and resin in its place, completely filling up all pores and interstices. When the process is completed the timber is removed and dried, after which it is ready for use. It is claimed that the timber submitted to this treatment, no matter how green it may be, becomes completely seasoned.

Protect the Silo.

Wherever possible the silo should be located in a sheltered place, as it has a great bearing on the extent to which the silage will freeze. A silo that is built on the west side of a barn, where it is exposed to the cold east winds, even if it is built with dead air spaces, will freeze more than one built of solid concrete if it is sheltered.

White arsenic is cheap, easy to get, and is not often adulterated. Therefore, when it is combined with lime or sal soda to prevent burning of the foliage, it is a most satisfactory insecticide.

It may be prepared as follows:

1 pound white arsenic,

4 pounds quick lime,

4 gallons water.

Boil the lime and arsenic together in the water for half an hour and then

CELEBRATION IN LOUISVILLE

KENTUCKY METROPOLIS WILL COMMEMORATE INCIDENTS IN WAR OF 1812

HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE

Battle Which Kentuckians Won and Massacres in Which They Suffered Will Be Reproduced in Fireworks and Shams on Land and Water.

A week's celebration, which Louisvillians declare will be the greatest and most spectacular in the history of celebrations in America, will be held in the Kentucky metropolis for seven days, commencing September 29, and will be the climax of a series of celebrations held in a dozen lake cities, to commemorate the sufferings and victories of American arms in the War of 1812 as well as to focus attention on the achievements of a century of peace. The crucial and decisive engagement of the War of 1812 was the battle of the Thames, fought and won on Canadian soil October 5, 1813. The series of celebrations, which will be held in America will close in Louisville, October 5, 1913, and just one hundred years from the hour that Col. Richard M. Johnston, afterward Vice President of the United States, slew the Indian chief Tecumseh, President Woodrow Wilson will probably be addressing a crowd of 100,000 people in Louisville, the home of many of the troops who fought in the battle of the Thames.

Kentucky was assigned the closing and choice date of the celebration because of the distinguished part played by the Kentuckians in the War of 1812. Kentucky began to play her part in the generation before the war opened, when she sent Gen. George Rogers Clark and other Louisville soldiers into the hostile wilderness which they wrested from the French and Indians and out of which was afterward carved the great States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Kentucky was the last state which could have benefited from the war, inasmuch as it was brought about chiefly by the British impression of American Indians, none of whom were Kentuckians, whereas should war prevail the friendly Indians on the frontier of the border states could be expected to commit atrocities from which Kentucky had already received the name "Dark and Bloody Ground."

However, it was chiefly Henry Clay, in the Kentucky Congressional Delegation that forced President Madison to declare the second war with Great Britain, and Kentucky furnished forty per cent of her fighting population to go into that war, and at the close of the war of the listed dead more than eighty per cent were the names of Kentuckians. Kentucky troops to a man were massacred at the River Raisin and again at the first attack on Fort Meigs.

When the time came to man Perry's new-hewn ships, he selected Kentuckians unaccustomed to the motion of the lakes to mount into the insecure rigging and from that vantage point, with their practiced eye and unerring aim, fired down upon the British and won the battle of Lake Erie. Practically every officer and soldier in the battle of the Thames was a Kentuckian, excepting alone Gen. William Henry Harrison, who, however, held his commission as Major-General from the Kentucky legislature. The charge of the Fören Hope, about the briefest, most terrible and most heroic attack narrated in the annals of warfare, consisted exclusively of Kentucky soldiers when nineteen of them and their twenty horses went down to certain death. It was the Kentucky sharpshooters who are credited with having won the battle of New Orleans after the war had in reality closed.

Kentucky proposes to reproduce in these scenes of the war of 1812 in the Louisville celebration. The battle of the Thames will be reproduced on land in Cherokee Park, topographically situated similar to the land on which was fought the battle of the Thames, and every detail of the sham battle will be as nearly historically correct as can be done. Louisville will take advantage of her magnificent river frontage in order to celebrate suitably the battle of Lake Erie. The actual battle will be depicted in a gorgeous entertainment of fireworks and all morning and all afternoon preceding the engagement there will be boat races, life saving feasts and aquatic sports. A historical pageant, depicting various scenes of the war of 1812 will also include a magnificent floral parade, such as made Louisville famous a year ago, and will include civic and military parades many miles in length. Drills and exercises by 10,000 costume school children will be held in the First Regiment Armory; a mammoth reception will be given to the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, and a series of costumed balls will be given in their honor.

Exceedingly low railroad rates, probably as low as one cent per mile, from a distance of several hundred miles of Louisville, will be granted and efforts are being made to secure to other Kentucky points rates from

Louisville for the week immediately following the celebration, to enable former Kentuckians who return home to visit the celebration, to visit also their old Kentucky homes.

John Lyons, of this place, who was killed at Ashland July 27th, while working on a coal car, was brought to his home here and buried on the 29th. The unfortunate young man is survived by his father, Andrew Lyons, and two sisters, Mrs. Sam Castle and Mrs. Peter Charles. The bereaved have our sympathy.

On Tuesday night last, July 29, Uncle Ira Borders, as he was usually called, was found dead sitting in his chair in church at this place. After having bowed for prayer, it was noticed that he still occupied the same position. The Rev. Mr. Hay was beginning to announce his text when it was discovered that Uncle Ira, who had long been in very bad health, had peacefully passed to his reward in the beyond. During the singing that preceded the prayer he was heard rejoicing and as was his usual manner when he had laughed and exhorted others nearby to be faithful. His death was caused by heart failure. He was preceded to the grave by his four sons, all grown to manhood, and is survived by his aged wife, who is also an invalid, and his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, of this place. Uncle Ira will be sadly missed and all bereaved brothers, sisters, wife and daughter have the sympathy of all.

The home of Rev. Bige Wiley, of this place, was the scene of three weddings last Wednesday, the contracting parties being Mr. Grover Bevins, son of George Bevins and wife, and Miss Bebbie Preston, daughter of the late Elliott Preston and wife. The second couple was Mr. Williamson and Miss Bertha Preston, daughter of Lafe Preston and wife. The third couple, Mr. Sparks and Miss Rachel Scarberry, daughter of George Scarberry and wife, all of Georges Creek. May their happiness through life be as complete as was the surprise to their many friends.

Miss Lillian Moore began her school at Walnut Grove Monday morning. She has just returned from the State Normal School at Richmond, where she has been attending school ever since last September. She holds a State certificate. We anticipate for her a successful term of school.

Miss Mary Moore, a sister of Miss Lillian and who is principal of a school at Atlanta, Georgia, is here spending part of her vacation with relatives and friends. Miss Mary is a graduate from a Bible school in Kansas City, Mo. The Misses Moore formerly lived here and we are proud of their success.

A. J. Austin was elected trustee in Div. 2, Sub-Dist. 8 without opposition last Saturday. Luther Layley was elected trustee in Walnut Grove district.

A large congregation attended the ordinance meeting of the Free Will Baptist Church at this place Sunday.

Another wedding was solemnized today. David Bevins, of Georges Creek, and Miss Grace Lyons, of Lowmanville, were united in marriage by Rev. Williams Aug. 4.

PIKE COUNTY NEWS

Small majorities were notable in two cases on the democratic ticket. O. K. Bond's majority over Joseph Ramey in the Judge's race was one vote, and Robt. L. Miller's majority over G. W. Pinson in the Police Judge's race was also one vote.

MRS. PINSON'S FUNERAL.

Uncle Thomas Pinson, aged 71, died of typhoid fever at his home here last week, and the funeral and interment took place Friday afternoon. The funeral service at the home was very short and without due formality, but another funeral will be accorded the aged man at his former home on John's Creek at a later date this fall.

The death of this good man has overshadowed Pike county with a general gloom very much as it does the nation upon the death of a president. Mr. Pinson was not a public figure; but his private life was so much the example of the good citizens that he was an object of esteem to a numerous host of friends from one end of Pike county to the other.

And all these extend heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Pinson and their children who survive him.

NOT SMALLPOX.

Three cases, supposed to be smallpox and placed under quarantine ten days ago by health officer Vicars, were released from quarantine last week under the finding of the health officer that it was not the dread infection. This has brought relief to the people of Pikeville, who feared an epidemic.

LABORER DECAPITATED.

Roy Kelley, 29, a railway laborer, was dashed to death at Jenkins last Friday. Kelley stepped from a train which was on the main line to the side tracks, and as he did so a freight which was on the siding struck him and knocked him beneath the wheels of the locomotive. His head and both hands were amputated, and he was otherwise badly mutilated.

Kelley was from North Carolina.

BLOOD POISONING.

Mrs. Adam Venters, of Regina, at the mouth of Marrowbone, is a victim of a serious case of blood poisoning. Some time ago Mrs. Mrs. Venters was engaged in peeling some fruit when the knife accidentally slipped and cut a small wound in the left hand. The wound did not give much trouble and appeared to heal up. But after a few days it was found that a serious case of blood poisoning had sprung from it. Her physician now says that the case is well under control, and there will be no danger whatever of her losing her hand, as was at first feared.

KERR HAS SUNSTROKE.

John W. Kerr, while out working in his garden at his home on Hillman Heights last week, was overcome by the heat. For several days his case was a dangerous one, and his chances for recovery were slim, indeed. But he is now on his feet again and his recovery will be speedy.

DEVERE LOSSES FINGER.

Tom Devers, an employee of the Pike Spoke Co., was badly wounded in the right hand last Saturday morning. Devers operates the saws that regulate the length of the spoke billets, and his hand accidentally came into contact with one of the saws, cutting off the first finger and sawing deeply into the hand. He is now recovering.

FILTER BADLY NEEDED FOR WATERWORKS SYSTEM.

Pikeville badly needs a filter for its waterworks system. During the summer weather the health of the people is in danger from disease contracted from impure water. It is human nature to neglect precaution, but this is a subject that claims the attention of every well-meaning citizen of this town, and it should be considered. Our neighboring town of Williamson, W. Va., has been thoughtful enough of the health of her citizens to take such a precautionary step, and their death rate has been reduced thereby to a minimum, and there are no cases of typhoid fever or other diseases that spring from impure water. Pikeville needs a similar spirit of progress, and a menace will hang over her people until she gets it.

BOY KICKED IN HEAD, MAY DIE.

The eight year old son of Dore Smallwood, while standing near a mile, was kicked in the head last Tuesday on his father's farm at Dorton, on Shelby creek. An examination of the child's wound by the attending surgeon revealed a fracture in the skull. His case has been pronounced a hopeless one.

RETURNS FROM WEST.

Miss Anna Elliott, a trained nurse of Pikeville, who for several months has been in the service of the American Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church at Walt Hill, Neb., has been ordered to Jenkins, where she will remain for a few weeks. On her way to her new charge Miss Elliott stopped for a brief visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. C. Elliott, here.

SOCIETY.

Miss Kathryn Maya gave an elegant seven-course dinner last Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at her home on College street, in honor of the Misses Merle and Dawn Flaxley, of Catlettsburg. The guests included, besides the guests of honor, the Misses Ethel Francis, Lillian Whitman, Alma Mainey; Mr. John Hatcher, Mr. Raymond Greer, Mr. Charlie Bowles and Mr. Walter Hatchet.
